

The UN Role in Supporting Rule of Law Reform in the Mid-East and North Africa

To celebrate United Nations Day, Ms. Leila Hanafi, a Moroccan-American international lawyer, will discuss the United Nation's role in implementing rule of law in the Mid-East and North Africa. Ms. Hanafi has worked as the staff attorney and programs manager of the American Bar Association, World Justice Project and has become one of the World Bank's youngest professionals.

Classic for Tomorrow[®]

Wednesday, October 24, 2012

7:30 pm

Olin Recital Hall

Sponsored by: Roanoke College Model UN Club, Center for Teaching the Rule of Law and the Lucas-Hathaway Charitable Trust.